It is planned to have the carols appeal to persons of many different nations, the representative ones of various countries

CLOUDS OR RAIN IS X MAS PROSPEC I

"Increasing cloudiness, Thursday; probable rain."

That's the news the Weather Man sends out in advance of Christmas, and, worse still, he sticks to it, despite the anemic sunshine of this morning.

Washington awoke Tuesday morning with a penetrating chill in the atmosphere that augured well for a "white" Christmas, but before noon the temperature had softened and the prospective snow came down as a drizzling rain.

Those who associate Christmas with the thought of snow will be disappointed, says the Dersons of many different nations, the representative ones of various countries being sung.

The following program will be observed:

"Silent Night:" "Holy Night:" "Come in A flat (Christmas Caross. Services in A flat (Christmas service.")

President's Family Remembers the Poor

Several hundred homes of poor families in Washington will be merry tomorrow because President and Mrs. Wilson remembered them with gifts.

Two White House automobiles, crowded with presents selected by the President's family, started from the executive offices on a Christmas mission at hoon today. Their loads of gifts were of all sorts, from turkeys and clothing to babies' toys, selected by Mrs. Wilson and her daughters after careful investigation of several hundred cheerless Christmas appeals. For all the genuine pleas thee was an answer in the form of a Christmas gift direct from the head of the nation.

While the White House automobiles covered every part of the four districts of the city, one of the chief routes was toward the Country Club, where the President has been accustomed to play golf, and where each day little children ran out to h's machine to wave friendly hands to him. The President came to know these little friends, and remembered each one.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

A CHRISTMAN MESSAGE FROM THE RECTOR.

The glad tidings of great joy are ringing out from bells and human tongues and find a responsive chord of thankfulness in unnumbered hearts toiling along life's road. Whether the journey be sorrowful or jayous, difficult or easy, man stope for a brief season to hear once more the old, heart-cheering story of God's great love for man as manifested in the coming of His Son. What a day for man this is! Let us not hide its true import under a mass of gifts and eatables. They are the results, not the cause, of our joy. They are the expressions of the gratitude we feel to God for what He gave us on this day.

reed to God for what He gave us on this day.

"How dear to His heart is the eight of all His children, old and young, leaving behind their gifts and home pleasures, to come to His House and join together in the great Service of Praise and Thanksgiving He Him-self instituted. What gift that we self instituted? What gift that we can receive equals that precious spititual gift of our Lord's Rody and Blood, which He gives us on His own day! It is the coming of Christ anew into our hearts, the beginning of a reconsecrated life."
